
Educating the educators

Our growing family of publications stand firm as champions for anyone in a business, financial or management role in schools - there, through the good and bad times, chock-full of relevant features, news stories and case studies, to help them along the way.

Our education portfolio has become quite extensive over the years, for state schools and academies, independent fee paying schools and free schools – we have something for everyone!

Our Education Portfolio

EdExec published the first monthly magazine of its kind to be targeted exclusively at business and financial leaders in schools more than 12 years ago.

Our strategy has always been focused reading for focused audiences - ensuring the content is 100% relevant and targeted, ensures a captive audience for our advertising clients.

Financial decisions are more important than ever in schools. The education sector is evolving at lightening pace, yet annual budgets are under increasing pressure. For schools to succeed in this climate, the role of business managers and bursars is paramount.

With that in mind, our stable of products has evolved and grown over the past 12 years – today we are a market leading education publisher who produce monthly publications, websites, events and other targeted information, specifically for school leaders, school business managers, bursars and other decision makers with business management responsibility in their school.
